Q5) a) VIP INDUSTRIES:

LEADERSHIP RETENTION STRATEGY

VIP Industries is the market leader in moulded luggage in India. The company has been the leader for over two decades in the organized Indian luggage market on the basis of quality and durability of its moulded suitcases. The customer perceives value for money in the long-lasting, competitively priced Alfa brand of VIP suitcase, which sells 1.5 lakh pieces a month. But this means that having bought one suitcase, the customer can do with it for several years. Market research by the company shows that an average Indian family pulls out the suitcase only for outstation travel sometimes or a few times during a year. Therefore, there is no need for regular replacement of the old suitcase / luggage.

VIP has a presence in a wide spectrum of the market segments for moulded luggage with a price range of ₹1000 to ₹6,000 per unit. The company faces competition both in the lower and high price ranges. In the lower price range, the competition from the unorganized sector affects the company the most. VIP’s economically priced brand, Alfa, is widely imitated and sold at much lower prices. This enables the unorganized sector to sell almost 20 times more than VIP can. The lower price threshold seems to be ₹500 which is nearly impossible for VIP to achieve because of its cost structure. In the ₹2,000 plus premium category, VIP has to contend with Samsonite which is a formidable price competitor.

The strategy for VIP has been to cut costs and increase cost competitiveness. In distribution and logistics areas, sustained efforts have been made for cost reduction. It has four factories in different locations in India. The average distribution cost comes to ₹7 to ₹8 a piece. Reduction in cost has been attempted through distributed manufacturing by having vendors making the product at different locations. This helps to avoid transportation of high-volume suitcases across long distances and, in the process, reduces inventory buildup in the distribution channel.
Pressure on sales has forced VIP Industries to offer discounts and even enter into a price war. Promotion of high visibility product suffered and advertising expenditure has been drastically reduced. Action on the promotion front has seen reorganization of the brand portfolio. VIP’s successful and popular Kal bhi aaj bhi campaign launched earlier served to reinforce the durability theme of its luggages. The company’s lead advertising agency is HTA.

Increase in population, rising propensity of Indians to travel, and the insatiable thirst of customers for state-of-the-art products with newer designs and innovation—all at an affordable price—offer both opportunities and challenges to the company. The company has taken a number of steps for new product development / product diversification.

Introduction of new brands, Mantra and Skybags, product diversification to include children’s bags and ladies’ bags, strategic alliance with Europe’s leading luggage-maker—Delsey—are some of the important steps taken by the company. The company has also introduced a carry-bag for laptops to suit young executives.

But, these are not enough. The company has to develop a more comprehensive strategy focusing primarily on the marketing mix. More innovations are required both in products and marketing.

i) Carryout ETOP for VIP industries.

ii) Which are the Generic Competitive strategies used by VIP industries for leadership retention?

b) GE IN INDIA:

EXPANSION THROUGH JV

For global expansion and growth, multinational companies usually adopt one of the three strategies: fully-owned subsidiary, acquisition or JV. GE has been generally following a strategy of expansion through JV. They have adopted the same strategy for India also. Within a short span of time, it had set up as many as eight JVs in India. The JVs cover such diverse areas as household appliances, consumer finance, plastic, medical system’s technology transfer, etc. By using the JV route, GE has been able to enter into several businesses or industries in India simultaneously and emerge as a powerful force in most of them.
Eight JVs entered into by GE along with the products/businesses and JV partners are shown below:

1) GE Appliances collaborates through a JV with Godrej.
2) GE Capital promotes a consumer finance JV with Godrej.
3) GE Capital promotes another consumer finance JV with HDFC.
4) GE Capital promotes a third JV in consumer finance with HDFC and Maruti as partners.
5) GE Plastics collaborates through a JV with IPCL.
6) GE Medical Systems collaborates through a JV with Wipro.
7) GE Medical Systems promotes another JV with Elpro.
8) GE India promoters a JV in technology transfer with Fanuc Ltd and Voltas.

Most of these JVs have been successful. Several factors explain the success of GE’s JVs in India. The major factors are mentioned below.

First, GE chose the right partners for its JVs. In every JV, it chose a partner who shared GE’s vision and business philosophy. GE was also tactful in the choice of partners. It chose partners from the private as well as public sectors. Choice of each partner was governed by the fact that GE and the partner together produce sufficient/strong synergy to render competitiveness to the JV business.

The second factor was complementarity of resources and skills. GE chose some of the best Indian companies in terms of capabilities and resources. To quote a GE spokesman: ‘...More than equity/financial resources, the partners in the JVs bring us advantages in the form of infrastructure, distribution network and management talent. For example, in the case of our JV with Godrej in the household appliances line, Godrej & Boyce brought to the JV their distribution muscle and it is in view of the distribution muscle of Godrej that we opted for the JV with Godrej...’.

The third factor was equitable distribution of the benefits of JV. GE ensured that the JV led to benefits to both the partners in equal measure. Procter & Gamble’s JV with Godrej had failed soon after its formation. But, GE’s JV with Godrej was a success. The reason was that in the GE-Godrej JV, both the partners had benefited strongly and both believed so. In the P & G Godrej venture, such a feeling was missing.
The fourth factor was decentralization and delegation of powers. GE allowed a good measure of delegation to the JVs. The unit level management was almost given complete autonomy. To quote the GE spokesman: ‘If you have to get the kind of speed which we are looking for the these JVs, you cannot have a meddling board of directors. In matters of day-to-day affairs, our policy is one of laissez-faire.’ GE followed a policy of preferring local managers for top positions in the JVs. To quote the GE spokesman again: ‘We prefer locals for the top positions in all our joint ventures. We bring in expats where some key recourse or knowledge is needed, and usually for short-term assignments.’

i) What were the parameters of success for the success of JVs of GE in India?

ii) Do you think that acquisition would be better than JV, for GE as GE always had a better business strength than the partners? Explain.

Q6 ITC Case:

The brands belonging to new FMCG business of ITC could be valued at Rs 21,000 crore currently, feels chairman Y C Deveshwar. The tobacco-to-hotel-to-FMCG conglomerate is aiming to clock a turnover of Rs 1,00,000 crore from its brands in the new FMCG businesses by 2025 and will expand its presence in almost all areas of FMCG business in future.

Deveshwar was talking to reporters after the annual general meeting of the company. Last year, the ITC chairman said the new FMCG brands of the company could be valued at Rs 18,000 crore. The bottom line of new FMCG business has improved since then and achieved a maiden profit in the fourth quarter of last fiscal.

“The turnover from the new FMCG brands is Rs 7,000 crore now. Ideally, the valuation of a brand is three times of the turnover. The new FMCG business as a whole is reaching breakeven soon. So it does not have to depend on any other businesses,” he added.

According to him, the FMCG giant is also aiming to emerge as one of the global Indian brands in the years to come. “With your support and all going well with a conducive environment, it is within the realm of possibility that your company can achieve a turnover of over Rs 1,00,000 crore from its brands in the new FMCG businesses by 2025-30. We are also planning to go global once our position in India is consolidated,” he said.

ITC has a number of home-grown brands across different new FMCG categories. These are Aashirvaad, Sunfeast, Bingo and Yipee in foods; Fiama Di Wills, Vivel and Superia in personal care products; Wills Lifestyle and John Players in the lifestyle category. Most of the brands developed in the last seven-eight years.

ITC brands such as Aashirvaad and Sunfeast have already garnered annualized consumer spends of over Rs 2,000 crore each. While the former brand is a clear market leader in its segment, Sunfeast Dark Fantasy has emerged as a leader in the premium cream biscuits category, claimed the chairman. According to him, brands like Bingo!, Candyman and Vivel are estimated to have attracted consumer spends of over Rs 500 crore each.

ITC was formed on 24 August 1910 under the name Imperial Tobacco Company of India Limited. Later the name was changed to India Tobacco Company Limited in 1970 and then to I.T.C. Limited in 1974. Finally, the company changed its name to ‘ITC Limited’ on September 2001. The earlier decades of the company’s activities centered around the tobacco industry. Since 1964 conclusive epidemiological evidence of the deadly effects of tobacco consumption has led to a sharp decline in official support for producers and manufacturers of tobacco, in spite of its large contribution to the agricultural, fiscal, manufacturing and exporting sectors of the economy. Viewing the changes in the business dynamics in the tobacco industry, the company starting looking to other venues for earning revenue. In 1970s, it started to enter non-tobacco businesses and in the same period it started reducing the foreign equity holding in the company to 40%.

In 1975, the company entered Hotel business with the acquisition of a hotel in Chennai which was rechristened ‘ITC-We lcomgroup Hotel Chola’. In 1979, ITC entered the Paperboard business by promoting ITC Bhadrachalam Paperboards Limited, which today has become the market leader in India.

In 1985, ITC set up Surya Tobacco Co. in Nepal as an Indo-Nepali and British joint venture. Since inception, its shares have been held by ITC, British American Tobacco and various independent shareholders in Nepal. In 2002, Surya Tobacco became a subsidiary of ITC Limited and its name was changed to Surya Nepal Private Limited.

ITC’s first rural mall, christened ‘Choupal Saagar’ was inaugurated in August 2004 at Sehore. On the rural retail front, 24 ‘Choupal Saagars’ are now operational in the 3 states of Madhya Pradesh, Maharashtra and Uttar Pradesh. In 2000, ITC forayed into the Greeting, Gifting and Stationery products business with the launch of Expressions range of greeting cards. A line of premium range of notebooks under brand Paperkraft was launched in 2002. To reach a wider student population, a range of notebooks was launched under brand Classmate in 2003. “Classmate” over the years has grown to become India’s largest notebook brand. Years 2007 - 2009 saw the launch of Children Books, Slam Books, Geometry Boxes, Pens and Pencils under the “Classmate” brand. In 2008, ITC repositioned the business as the Education and Stationery Products Business and launched India’s first environment friendly premium business paper under the “Paperkraft” brand. “Paperkraft” offers a diverse portfolio in the premium executive stationery and office consumables segment. ITC also entered the Lifestyle Retailing business with the Wills Sport range of casual wear for men and women in 2000. The Wills Lifestyle chain of exclusive stores later expanded its range to include Wills Classic formal wear (2002) and Wills Clublife evening wear (2003).
In 2000, ITC spun off its information technology business into a wholly owned subsidiary, ITC Infotech India Limited, to more aggressively pursue emerging opportunities in IT and IT-enabled services area. ITC’s foray into the Foods business began in August 2001 with the introduction of Kitchens of India ready-to-eat Indian gourmet dishes. In 2002, ITC entered the confectionery and staples segments with the launch of the brands Mint-o and Candyman confectionery and Aashirvaad atta (wheat flour). 2003 witnessed the introduction of Sunfeast as the Company entered the biscuits segment. ITC’s entered the fast growing branded snacks category with Bingo! in 2007. In 2002, ITC entered Safety Matches business with acquisition of WIMCO Limited. ITC now markets safety matches brands like iKno, Mangaldeep and Aim. ITC’s entered Agarbattis (incense sticks) business in 2003. ITC’s popular agarbattis brands include Spriha and Mangaldeep.

Stressing on the need of having a global identity, Deveshwar said, “The mission is to create unique products, born out of deep consumer insight to win growing consumer franchise and build world-class brands that would progressively dominate the Indian global market. The global brands operating in India are giving royalty to the tune of Rs 35,000 crore to their respective countries. This is huge. Similarly, we can create global brands. Brands have a big role to play in the nation’s development.” Commenting on investments, he added that ITC would invest Rs 26,000 crore in five years, out of which it has already invested Rs 2,000 crore in 2012-13 and will invest Rs. 6,000 crore in 2013-14 in the areas of hotel, new FMCG, Paperboard, IT, and warehousing.

Case Study

Q6) COCO-COLA: RESPONSE TO ENVIRONMENTAL INFLUENCE  [25]

Coco-Cola is a carbonated soft drink, produced by the Coca-Cola Company of Atlanta, Georgia. The beverage is widely referred to as Coke, a nickname eventually trademarked by the company. Coke is one of the world’s most recognizable and widely sold commercial brands.

Originally intended as a patent medicine when it was invented in the late-19th century Coco-Cola was acquired by the business Asa Griggs Candler, whose shrewd marketing tactics led Coke to its world wide soft drink market dominance during the twentieth century. Though beset periodically by critiques of its health effect an by allegations of wrong doing by the company, Coco-Cola has remained an internationally popular soft drink.

HISTORY

Early Years

Columbus Georgia druggist Jhon Stith Pemberton invented a coca wine called Pemberton’s French Wine Coca in 1884. He was inspired by the formidable success of French Angelo Marini’s coca wine, Vin Mariani. The following year, when Atlanta and Fulton County passed Prohabitive Legislation, Pemberton began to develop a non-alcoholic version of the French Wine Coca. He name it as Coca-cola, because it included the stimulant coca leaves from South America and was flavored using Cola nuts a source of Caffeine. Pemberton called for five ounces of coca leaf per gallon of syrup. The first sales were made at Jacob’s Pharmacy in Atlanta, Georgia on May 18, 1886 and for the first eight months only an average of nine drinks were sold each day. Pemberton ran the first advertisement for the beverage on May 29th that year in the Atlanta Journal.
Happy Accident-The Invention of Coca-Cola

So, when the new Coca-Cola debuted later that year—still possessing “the valuable tonic and nerve stimulant properties of the coca plant and cola huts”, yet sweetened with sugar instead of wine—Pemberton advertised it not only as a “delicious, exhilarating, refreshing and invigorating” soda-fountain beverage but also as the ideal “temperance drink”. It is said coke was discovered when Deluise a 19th century American soda jerk accidentally hit the soda water spigot, adding carbonated water to the syrup in the glass. The result was a “happy accident”: the invention of Coca-Cola. In 1892, Candler incorporated a second company, The Coco-Cola Company (the current corporation), and in 1910 Candler had the earliest records of the company burned, further obscuring its legal origins. Regardless, Candler began aggressively marketing the product—the efficiency of this concerted advertising campaign would not be realized until much later.

World War II

When the United States entered World War II the Coco-Cola Company began providing free drinks for soldiers of the United States Army. The United States Army permitted Coco-Cola employees to enter the front lines as “Technical Officers” where they operated Coke’s system of providing refreshments for soldiers who welcomed the beverage as a reminder of home. After the war, the soldiers brought home their new found taste for Coco-Cola popularizing the drink.

New Coke to the Present

In 1984, Coco-Cola amid much publicity changed the formula of the drink. Some authorities believe that the New Coke as the reformulated drink came to be known was Invented specifically to respond to its commercial competitor, pepsi. Numerous blind taste tests suggested that more consumers preferred the taste of Pepsi (which is believed to have more lemon oil, less orange oil and uses vanillin rather than vanilla) to Coke. In taste tests drinkers were more likely to respond positively to sweeter drinks and Pepsi had the advantage over Coke because it is much sweeter. Coca-Cola tinkered with the formula and created the new Coke. Follow-up taste tests revealed that most consumers preferred the taste of New Coke to both Coke and Pepsi. The reformation was led by the ten-CEO of the company Roberto Goisueta and the president Don Keough.

The New Coke therefore came as a grievous blow to the management of The Coco-Cola Company. It is possible that customers would not have noticed the change if it had been made secretly or gradually and thus brand loyalty could have been maintained. The Coco-Cola Company is the world’s largest consumer of natural vanilla extract. When New Coke was introduced in 1985, this had a severe impact on the economy of Madagascar, a prime vanilla exporter since New Coke used vanillin a less-expensive synthetic substitute. Purchase of vanilla more than halved during this period. But the flop of New Coke brought a recovery.

FRANCHISED PRODUCTION MODEL

The actual production and distribution of Coco-Cola follows a franchising model. The Coco-Cola Company only produces a syrup concentrate which it sells to various bottlers throughout the world who hold Coco-Cola franchises for one or more geographical areas. The bottlers produced the final drink by mixing the syrup with filtered water and sugar (or artificial sweeteners) and fill it into cans and bottles, which the bottlers then sell and distribute to retail stores, vending machines, restaurants and food service distributors. The bottlers are normally also responsible for all advertisement and other sales initiatives within their areas. The Coco-Cola Company owns minority shares in some of its largest franchisees, like the Coco-Cola Enterprises and Coco-Cola FEMSA, but almost half of the volume sold in the world is produced by fully independent bottlers. As sugar and sweeteners are added by the bottler, the sweetness of the drink is said to differ in various parts of the world in order to cater for local taste.

COCO-COLA ADVERTISING

Specially designed Christmas labels featuring Santa Claus give a seasonal twist to these Coco-Cola bottles. The characteristic shape of the bottles is trademarked. It was designed to be universally recognizable even when broken. Coco-Cola’s advertising has had a significant impact on American culture and is frequently credited with the “invention” of the modern image of Santa Claus as an old man in red-and-white garments; however while the company did start promoting this image in the 1930’s in its winter advertising campaigns it was already common before that. In the 1970s a song from Coco-Cola commercial called, “I’d like to teach the world to sing”, produced by Billy Davis became a popular hit single, but there is no evidence that it did anything to increase sales of the soft drink. Coke’s advertising has been rather pervasive as one of the Woodruff’s stated goals was to ensure that everyone on Earth drank Coco-Cola as their preferred beverage. Advertising for Coke is now almost ubiquitous, especially in Southern areas of North America such as Atlanta where Coke was invented. Coco-Cola has gone through a number of different advertising slogans in its long history including “the pause that refreshes”, “I would like to buy the world a Coke” and “Coke is it”.

RECENT HISTORY:

During the 1980’s, Pepsi-Cola ran a series of television advertisements showing people participating in taste tests in which they express a preference for pepsi over Coco-Cola. Coco-Cola ran ads to combat Pepsi’s ads in an incident sometimes referred to as the cola wars; one of Coke’s ads compared the so-called Pepsi challenge to two chimpanzees deciding which tennis ball was furrier. Thereafter, Coco-Cola regained its leadership in the market. In an attempt to broaden its portfolio, Coco-Cola purchased Columbia Pictures in 1982. Columbia provided subtle publicity through Coke product placements in many of its films while under Coke’s ownership. However, after a few early successes, Columbia began to underperform and was dropped by the company in 1989.

SPORT EVENT SPONSERSHIPS

Coco-Cola was the first ever sponsor of the Olympic games, at the 1928 Summer Olympics in Amsterdam and has been an Olympic sponsor ever since. This corporate sponsorship included the 1996 Summer Olympics hosted in Atlanta, which allowed Coco-Cola to spotlight its hometown. Since 1977 starting with the 1978 FIFA World Cup in Argentina Coco-Cola is the main sponsor of FIFA, and has sponsored each FIFA World Cup and other competitions organized by FIFA. In fact one of the FIFA tournament trophy: “FIFA World Youth Championship” from Tunisia in 1977 to Malaysia in 1997 was called “FIFA -Coco Cola Cup”. In additional Coco-Cola sponsors the annual Coco-Cola 600 for the NASCAR Nextel Cup Auto Racing series at Lowe’s Motor Speedway in Charlotte, North Carolina. Coco-Cola has a long history of sports marketing relationships which over the years have included Major League Baseball, The National Football League, National Basketball Association and the National Hockey League as well as many teams within those leagues. they have been a long time sponsor of the Australian Football League at one stage holding naming rights to the Premierships season. They also sponsor the International Rules Football test game played between Australia and Ireland every year as well as the Football League in England.
